FORD HAS IDEA
FIGHT DISEASE
RABBIT SAVED.
—By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1939 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HENRY FORD will say in Capitators Magazine for April that "it is just as easy to think big as it is to think small."
It is after you get a start. For instance, in 1899, 61 years ago, John D. Rockefeller, who began working as an office boy for $15 a month, started for himself as a commission man. He began "thinking big." He had accumulated $17,000 in 1892 and took a partner, Maurice B. Clark. They invested their money in a crude oil refinery in Cleveland.

THAT was the beginning of "thinking big."
In 1865, Mr. Rockefeller, then 26, bought out his partner for $72,500. Standard Oil Corporation papers were signed on Jan. 10, 1870. Standard Oil is now 60 years old.

John D. Rockefeller has been "thinking big" ever since.
His best "big thinking" has been devoted to the fight against disease. Instead of using a few dollars to relieve individual cases, he uses tens of millions to eliminate diseases permanently.

THE NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL Conference board tells you that the wealth of the United States amounts to $360,100,000,000.
It sounds a lot, but it is only $3,000 for each American, with about $500 extra for New Yorkers. That isn't enough.

If a healthy black slave in 1860 was worth on the auction block $1-00, what is the value of an American, willing to work, and able ordinarily to earn at least $5 a day?

HUMAN MACHINES, alone, leaving out mines, real estate, factories, are worth more than 360 billions.
In India, Hindus and Mohammedans fight, the Hindus, women included, getting the worst of it. Mohammedans looted Hindu shops, burned Hindu homes.

THE HINDUS live on vegetables and water.
Mohammedans eat meat and drink water, their prophet won't let them drink alcohol. With their meat, they beat the Hindus.

The British, thousands of miles away, eat meat and drink beer, wine and spirits. And they beat both Hindus and Mohammedans.
Find the moral in that.

THANKS TO SENATOR BORAH, whom the Russian government seems to respect, 11 of 14 rabbis, in danger of execution, have been guaranteed their lives.
The other three are still uncertain.

Protestants and Catholic dignitaries are striving to save the rabbis, accused of organizing opposition to Russia's government.
The Russians cynically remark that this showed improvement in Christianity, since not very long ago, Protestants and Catholics were both engaged in persecuting Jews and killed many, often to get their money from them.

SECRETARY LAMONT of the department of commerce, learns that 75 per cent of business failures are due to carelessness.
Mr. Solomon, who owns 40 beauty parlors, asked: "Is that a good business?" replied: "It's a good business if you know how to manage it. But any business is a rotten business if you don't know how to manage it." Personally, as he will tell you, Mr. Solomon pays more attention to business than to beauty.

LADY ASTOR, who talks sweetly on the radio, warns you that another big war "probably would end western civilization."
Perhaps it would. Probably not. It would kill millions with poison gas, destroy billions in property.
But it would act very quickly, as the "black death" did, when it killed nearly half the population of Europe.

The victims would be in the big cities, where gas and airplanes can reach crowded populations conveniently.
After the surrender of a nation taken by surprise, the country would again reconstruct what we call "civilization."
It would be necessary to end scientific knowledge to end civilization. Merely killing people would not do it. Human beings have been killing each other for 1,000,000 years.

PHAT A MAN REALLY wants to do, he can do.
Martin Jensen, using the first plane turned out by his factory in Pennsylvania, flew backwards and upside down against a 40-mile wind on Long Island yesterday.
No bird has ever done that, although birds have been flying a long time.

TAXES MAY BE BIGGER.
President Hoover warns Congress that it is inclined to spend money too freely. An increase of 40 per cent in taxes might follow any too liberal appropriations.

Mediterranean Pact Not To Form Part of Discussions

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 25.—In an effort to "clear the air of rumors and exaggerated reports" spread around the world since the five-power naval disarmament conference was adjourned last Wednesday because of France cabinet difficulties, an official British government communiqué was issued today expressing the conviction that a satisfactory agreement would crown the work of the parley.
The communiqué, presumably dictated personally by Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, was given out to the press by a government official at St. James' palace.
The communiqué, presumably dictating the suggestion that a three-power pact between the United States, Great Britain and Japan is all that the conference can hope to achieve, and denies that political questions are impeding the progress of the conference.
It was definitely stated that the scope of the parley will not be widened to include discussion of freedom of the seas and the question of neutral rights.
Regarding the three-power pact suggestion the communiqué declares: "This question has never been considered as a way out of the difficulties of the conference. It must be remembered that the suggestion of a three-power pact is not in its conception helpful to the idea of the main disarmament work of the league of nations."
"Up to the present moment the delegations have been so confident that a five-power pact will be arranged that there has been little more than casual conversation regarding any other arrangements."
Contrary to prevalent reports, the question of a political pact among the nations has never been formally raised by the French or any other delegation in any document or official conversation, the communiqué declares. It admits however that "there have been vague references to a political background but no formal proposals or discussions."
The communiqué states that the question of a Mediterranean pact, reported to have been demanded by France, should be left to the regular diplomatic channels, particularly in view of the fact that a number of Mediterranean powers are not represented at the London conference.

THREE QUALIFY FOR PATROLMAN POST IN EXAM

Kerr Expected To Name Gray's Successor Wednesday

Names of three candidates to the post on the Salem police force to succeed Patrolman Jesse Gray were certified with Safety Director John R. Kerr by Roy W. Harris, clerk of the civil service commission, today. Examination papers of seven candidates to the post were graded by the commission Monday night with the result that three aspirants to the veteran patrolman's position were approved by the board.
Appointment of Gray's successor is expected to be announced by Kerr Wednesday.
Paul Ormsby, Michael Welch and Edward D. Pillar were certified as having qualified for the position by Harris in a communication to Kerr. Pillar received a grade of 80 per cent and Ormsby 77 per cent. Welch's grade of 77.3 per cent taken from an examination he took last year, was also certified at his duties as special patrolman made him eligible for the position without being forced to take the examination last week.
Gray, who has been connected with the Salem police department for 30 years, having taken his first civil service examination in 1900, will retire from the force Friday. His successor will probably be named by Kerr tomorrow following which he will be sworn in by Mayor John M. Davidson, Thursday.

RECKLESS YOUTH GETS BLAMED IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Fear Some of 100 Injured In Train-Automobile Crash May Die

ELEVEN KILLED AT TIME OF TRAGEDY

Boy Was Hurrying Home From Date at Time Crash Occurred

(By The Associated Press)
KENOSHA, WIS., Feb. 25.—The reckless driving of a youth hurrying home from a "date" was blamed today for the North Shore interurban wreck that killed eleven persons and injured more than 100 others Sunday night.
Edward R. Eger, Chicago investigator for the railway, placed the responsibility upon Norman Shinnars, 21, Milwaukee, who tried to beat the five car Chicago-bound train to a highway crossing. Shinnars' car was demolished as the speeding train struck it, killing him and his companion, Frank Tomczak.
The wreckage of the automobile, ground under the wheels of the passenger train, threw it from the track and shunted it into a north-bound freight.
In addition to the north shore investigation, Kenosha county and state authorities today attempted to find causes for the wreck.
Reckless Driving
After preliminary investigation Eger said "it is merely another instance of a reckless automobile driver disregarding plainly marked railroad crossings and signals and attempting to beat the train to the crossing."
Shinnars was hurrying home to his fiancée, Jeanette Bohanap, 19, who lives near here. Speeding, according to witnesses, Shinnars swung his car around another automobile waiting at the crossing for the trains to pass.
He shot onto the crossing. There was a crash as the train smashed into the car. The car hurtled to the northbound tracks as the passenger train left the rails. A freight speeded north. The passenger, derailed by the automobile, sidwiped the freight. Passenger coaches careened and telescoped as freight cars, the automobile, rails and high tension electric wires twisted into cross-patched debris.
Hundreds of passengers were buried beneath the mass. Eleven persons, including those in the automobile, were killed outright. Doctors today held slight hope for eleven others of the injured.

Legislative Cookery Will Be Continued During Coming Term

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—With many kettles on the boil, the "ladies of the house", with one exception, want to continue their legislative cookery in congress.
Mrs. Paul Peden Oldfield, Democrat, Arkansas, will not run for re-election. She made that statement quietly, and with as little explanation as it was once made by a former president.
But all seven of the others are in the midst of plans for further law-making future.
True, Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican, Illinois, will not try to succeed herself as a congresswoman-at-large, but that is because she is campaigning for a seat in the senate. A train took her westward from Washington today for another speech-making whirl.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 25.—Thunderstorms and blizzards gave the northwest a wide variety of February weather yesterday and were blamed for three drownings in Minneapolis.
From one-half to three inches of rain fell in parts of North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The rain in North Dakota was followed by a snowstorm that covered the ground with a nine-inch blanket at Bismarck.
The heavy downpour at Minneapolis, which totaled nearly two inches, caused a rush of water in a trunk sewer and trapped four workers, only one of whom escaped. Earl Dillon, who escaped, said he was swept through the sewer to his mouth at the Mississippi river. He swam to shore. No trace was found of his three companions.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Feb. 25.—Finding air currents unsuitable for sustained glider flights, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today awaited "real winds" before continuing with his sail plane experiments off Point Loma, near here. The flying colonel made one brief flight yesterday, but returned to Los Angeles last night to await reports of more favorable weather.
The flight marked the christening of "The Anne Lindbergh," a newly built Bowius sail plane named in honor of Mrs. Lindbergh. The colonel took off from Mount Soledad, between San Diego and La Jolla in the previously untried glider and for 20 or 25 minutes kept it aloft in varying winds. He landed on a sandy beach approximately 15 miles from his starting point.

Industrial Plants Topple As Windstorm Rages; Will Rebuild

(By International News Service)
ZANESVILLE, O., Feb. 25.—Seven persons were injured, four seriously, property damage of $150,000 was done and 300 men were thrown out of work by the tornado and rain storm which struck the southern part of this county late Monday.
A swath about 100 yards wide was cut by the wind, which accompanied the rain check-up today showed. Mrs. Louis Owens, 48, her husband, Louis, 50, and a daughter, Bonnie, 14, were seriously hurt when a chimney crushed them as their house collapsed because of the terrific wind. Owen Milner, 45, was seriously injured and his wife and two sons were slightly hurt, when the Milner home was "halved" by the wind. The residence was split in two.
Both of the devastated houses are located at Ironsport about nine miles south of here.
Potteries in that area suffered heavy damage. The Ransbottom pottery was unroofed and 300 men were temporarily thrown out of work. The Hydraulic Pressed Brick company plant was demolished by the storm and will have to be rebuilt.
The Morgan Tharpe Crate factory near Ironsport, was also leveled by the wind.

High winds which swept a great portion of the state failed to occur in Salem and vicinity although heavy rains occurred and the first electrical disturbance of the year occurred. Lightning flashed during the early part of the night.

DEMOCRATS OF CAPITAL SCORE TARIFF METHOD

Hoover Leadership Given Severe Criticism In Attack

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Hoover leadership was the target of an overnight attack from Democratic spokesmen based partially upon the president's conference with congressional and departmental leaders and his warning against excessive appropriations.
Rep. Garner, Texas, Democrat, termed the conference "a move to divert the attention of the public from the chaotic economic and unemployment conditions brought on by lack of leadership of the president."
"It is simply the stuffing up of a straw man to be knocked down," said Senator McKellar, a Democratic member of the appropriations committee. "Bills for large appropriations are always introduced but congress doesn't appropriate more than it can afford. It's an attempted scare. It's all poppycock."
Speaking at Kansas City, J. J. Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee asserted that during the tariff debate the only "pertinent utterance" of President Hoover "was a wall of displeasure because the senate sought to take away from him authority to alter tariff rates and to restore that revenue-raising provision to the full dominion of congress where it originally resided."
He termed the tariff efforts of the regular Republicans an attempt to impose "a super-structure of tariff rates of the existing Fordney-McCumber inquiry." He added that "by not so much as a word has Mr. Hoover ever indicated his disapproval of the monstrosity."

Dominican Troubles Are Drawing Attention of C. B. Curtis

(By The Associated Press)
SANTO DOMINGO, DOMINICAN REPUBLIC, Feb. 25.—The national assembly of the Dominican republic will meet Thursday to consider the resignation of the Vice-President Dr. Jose D. Alfonsea. Meanwhile the American minister, Charles B. Curtis, is intervening to bring peace between the government and revolutionary factions.
(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Lack of authentic information from American Minister Charles B. Curtis at Santo Domingo City, Dominican republic, concerning the reported overthrow of President Horacio Vasquez, caused uneasiness at the state department today.
The department was officially informed that the Dominican foreign minister called at the American legation and requested asylum for President Vasquez, Madame Vasquez, Vice President Alfonsea and members of the presidential suite. Only Madame Vasquez remained under the protection of the legation, however.
President Vasquez and the vice president and party later sought the protection of the fortress at Santo Domingo City.

HANNAH GIVES NEW LOCATION OF BOY'S BODY

AKRON, O., Feb. 25.—A writ of habeas corpus, which if approved when Charles Hannah is brought before the entire court tomorrow, will release him from jail, was issued by the appellate court for ninth district this afternoon on the request of counsel for Hannah, held in connection with the disappearance of Melvin Horst, 4.

AKRON, O., Feb. 25.—Appellate court writ of habeas corpus to release Charles Hannah from the county jail at Wooster, O., was made by telephone to the appellate court here today by Atty. Richard T. Mills from Wooster.

Officials of the court said the hearing on the application will be held tomorrow morning at 9:30 a. m.

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 25.—Another story of Charles Hannah who says he killed Melvin Horst, missing four-year-old Orrville boy, was being checked by authorities today.

Hannah's newest version gives the burial place of Melvin as a woods at Kidron, about six miles south of Orrville, but Prosecutor Graven intended to question him further today before sending out a searching party.

Hannah, who twice has thrown authorities off the trail with false accounts of where the body was buried, was too inexact in his third location to warrant an actual search, authorities said. Graven prepared about 12 questions to put to Hannah today in the hope that the search could be narrowed.

Hannah's latest account that he killed Melvin the night of December 27, 1928, in Conald's Orrville garage, that the two men then tossed the body in the back seat of Conald's car, that they drove to the vicinity of the Mennonite church at Kidron, and that Conald took the body into a nearby woods and disposed of it.

Hannah also said that he noticed a man driving by at that time. Adams Amstutz, a resident of the community, has reported he saw two men on a mysterious mission in that vicinity but thought it was about a week after Melvin disappeared.

Conald's comment is: "I'd have been a fool to get mixed up in anybody else's business."

PERNICIOUS LITERATURE

It is an accepted theory that the life of a people is reflected in its drama and literature, but that stand must be modified to explain that only those plays and books which represent the majority of the people are truly representative. When two racket and underworld magazines were taken off the news stands of New York the other day and their publishers agreed to discontinue them, nothing was lost. Tense as is the crime situation in the nation, the section of the population which such publications represent is very small.

The gang story is invariably the same. The hero is a clever hoodlum who always comes out ahead and triumphs over the "flat-footed cop." He is usually made to appear noble, an intelligent criminal made so by a vengeful law. His exploits are so overdrawn that he appears to be a kind of superman in his crowd.

It is the sort of thing that appeals to boys, and girls too. Their ambition is to become leaders and they see in this gang boss an example. The youngster of a few years ago was usually a cowboy in his spare moments. He shot Indians and saved beautiful heroines from the rustlers. His background was derived from the dime novel, which, while it had its faults, always upheld honesty and virtue.

Today, however, the lad who lurks behind the back steps is not Dead-eye Dick, the cattle boss, but the Yellow Terror, and underworld demigod. He is pretending to smuggle a cargo of contraband booze or dope past the corner policeman. Representative of the law are not heroes to him but persons to be avoided and hissed whenever it is safe to do so.

The percentage of those turning criminal may not be greater than those who became cowboys, but certainly the temptation is greater. Every city has its underworld and it is not hard to reach. Removal of hoodlum literature from the hands of the young should make the way more difficult.

We very gravely fear that the city of Washington is not entirely free from the moisture from which it is held to suffer. Anyway, a 75-year-old man was arrested there, a night or two ago, for singing "Sweet Adeline."

Peggy Joyce says she has "never known a husband to wear longer than six months." If Peggy wants to make the reading public sit up and take notice, she should point out one of hers who wore that long.

"The more beautiful a woman," says Mrs. Ethel Mannin, "the more likely she is to meet all the wrong men." Have a heart, Ethel! We married men must either deny the pulchritude of our better halves or admit we're the wrong ones. You're unfair!

David Lloyd George says that "liberty is not merely a privilege to be acquired." And it may be said that, in acquiring it, the utmost care should be exercised not to mistake it for license.

What Others Say

PRISON REFORM

The trial of six convicts for murder growing out of the attempted jail delivery at Auburn in December, which is now under way in that city, acts like an open tap to the coddlers and sub-sisters. Suggestions of reform are flowing from them like tears. Out of the flood we pick two.

A chaplain at Auburn states that prison riots are inspired by the despair born of long sentences. The remedy he proposes is to sentence all convicts from one year to life and then release them as fast as their good conduct in prison warrants. The way that would work, as we see it, would be something like this: A man who had been robbing and killing for years, a Jaboriski, we'll say, would be sent up for a minimum term of one year, a maximum of life. Certainly he wouldn't riot if not by rioting he could purchase his freedom in a year or a few years. Certainly he would go to Sunday school. Certainly he would tell his keepers that he would never again play with fire.

PROBLEMS OF A HOSTESS

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

DISEASE WAR ADVANCING

Millions of dollars are expended annually on civic improvements and on public and private enterprises. But there is one great problem confronting mankind today, and that is prevention of illness and death.

Notwithstanding the large sums already given annually for health promotion in the United States, a still larger sum is needed to cope with the scourge of disease. This is the conviction of great health experts.

Recently there was a convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. Some very interesting facts were given out by Dr. Henry W. Cock, vice president and medical director of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company of Minneapolis.

First of all, he advocated the expenditure of $200,000,000 annually for the prevention of illness and death. This is a big sum, but we have a bigger problem in the work set forth.

A study was made of 67,000,000 policy holders of 82 life insurance companies in the United States. For the first 19 months of 1929 the death rate has increased from 892 per 100,000 in 1928 to 810 per 100,000 in 1929. This is a 23 per cent increase.

The increase in deaths from influenza alone more than covers the increase in the general death rate for the period named. There was a recurrence of this disease which bordered on an epidemic early in the year.

One of the greatest problems still unsolved today is that of the prevention of influenza and its most common complication, pneumonia. Much study and effort are being put forth to find the cause and prevention of this serious ailment. Many thousands every year are incapacitated and die from the effects of this disease.

Although a successful war has been waged against tuberculosis, typhoid fever and various diseases of children such as measles, diphtheria and diarrhea, there is still much more to be done, according to Dr. Cock. He points out that there are 93,000 deaths a year for tuberculosis, 15,000 among children from measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria, 25,000 infants die from summer diarrhea. These fatalities occur in spite of the fact that the methods of life-saving in these diseases are well known and have been proved effective.

We expend, as a nation, through organized public and private health agencies, less than 75 cents per capita for the prevention of illness. If $2.50 per capita were wisely expended, it would enable these agencies to cope with such dread diseases, and it would reduce the death rate from other preventable causes as well. This would lengthen the life span seven years, it was thought.

Surely everybody would be willing to give the small sum of $2.50 a year to insure the successful carrying out of such a program. The public must become educated to the necessity of health promotion, and it is encouraging to note the extent to which people are becoming interested in public and private health.

Moderation! THE FRIEND that prolongs your youth

Men who would keep that trim, proper form, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate! . . . Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

HOSPITAL SCENE OF GUN BATTLE; VICTIM MAY DIE

Wounded Gangster Shoots
Back At Assailants
From His Bed

IDENTIFY MAN AS NOTORIOUS GUNMAN

Panic Attends Shooting as Bullets Fly Thick and Fast in Room

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Frank McElrane, one of gangland's "toughs," was shot three times, probably fatally, by enemies last night as he lay already wounded on his bed in a private hospital.

With his right leg in a cast and leaning high with pulleys and weights, McElrane grabbed a revolver from beneath his pillow and fired back at his assailants as they fled into the corridor.

One of the assailants' bullets pierced McElrane's back; another his wrist and a third lodged in the right thigh.

As "Charles Miller," McElrane gained entrance to the hospital January 28, for treatment of a bullet wound, which he said he accidentally inflicted.

Firing Breaks Out

While the nurse was out of the room last night, the assailants quietly slipped in. A fusillade broke the quietness, followed by screams of patients.

Police were called, but McElrane maintained he was "Miller," until recognized by detectives.

A search revealed the gangster's revolver under the pillow. It had been emptied and bullet pits on the wall of the corridor opposite the door to McElrane's room indicated the battle he waged with his attackers.

Although once a partner in the flourishing south side beer business of Joe Salts, McElrane has been known as an ally of the "spike" O'Donnell and his gang.

Charged Associates

This change of associates, police believe, was responsible for what they believe was an attempt on his life January 23. Failing then, the rivals apparently fled to his hospital room but they did not reckon with the revolver McElrane had hidden beneath his pillow.

Questioned in numerous sayings, McElrane was tried only once for murder in 1927, and then was acquitted of killing Thaddeus Fancher, a Crown Point, Ind., attorney in a roadside brawl.

The same year while still allied with Salts, McElrane was dismissed on charges involving the slaying of three members of the O'Donnell gang.

Earlier in the night Joseph Palsano, gunman and thief died from wounds suffered in a gun fight with police, in which he shot and killed Patrolman John J. Ryan, a police hero.

Parties in Prison

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 23.—Results of a federal investigation into charges that John Selheimer and Sam Cohen, Cleveland bootleggers, were allowed special privileges and entertained at parties while serving time at the Richland county jail at Mansfield, will be turned over to Sanford Bates, superintendent of prisons, at Washington.

T. T. Wilcox of the department of justice, investigated the charges during the last two weeks and has turned in his report, according to U. S. District Atty. Wilfred J. Mahon, who requested the investigation. Mahon said the report, which department of justice rules prevent making public, probably would be given to Bates, who selects places of confinement for federal prisoners.

KIDNAPING RING MAKES DEMANDS

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23.—Officers of two states today searched for the master minds of a daring kidnaping ring which abducted Charles W. Pershall, wealthy Granite City, Ill., chain grocer and banker, within two blocks of his home last week, held him captive two days and released him on payment of a sum reputed to be $40,000.

It was the second gang, playing the ransom racket as a means of livelihood to be uncovered here within a week; the other, described by police as the "gas house mob" being broken up through 12 arrests which followed a raid on a St. Louis county resort and the rescue of Jacob Hoffman, a bookmaker, from his underground "home."

Three others, all bookmakers and gamblers, have been kidnapped and other donations for personal freedom was said to have totaled $73,000.

Accident Causes Still Discovery

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Quite by accident, a huge still and seven 10,000 gallon vats filled with mash, were found last night on South Michigan ave., half a mile from federal prohibition headquarters and on the edge of the loop district.

The distillers had disposed of their cocked-out mash down a sewer. Heavy rains and melting snows had caused the sewer to back up. The odor of fermented grain filled the air so that guests of the Stevens hotel and persons as far south as the Illinois Central station noticed it. Federal agents finally traced the odor to a large garage.

Fires were still burning, but the still was deserted. The value of the whiskey making equipment was estimated at $50,000.

OHIO TREASURY RECOVERS MUCH INTEREST MONEY

Deeds of Thad H. Brown
Result in Statement of Returns

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Feb. 23.—Deeds of Thad H. Brown, Columbus, now general counsel for the federal radio commission, when he was Secretary of State of Ohio resulted today in announcement that the banks he favored had paid to the state $34,434.17.

The statement on the matter was made by Gilbert Bettman, attorney-general, who said $21,000 approximately still was to be collected and turned into the Ohio treasury.

The payments today represented the first illicit interest repaid to the state treasury in more than 13 years. In the period of the administration of the late Governor Judson Harmon large interest recoveries were had.

The money the state received today was the outcome of findings made by Joseph T. Tracy, auditor of state. Tracy recommended the collection of approximately $70,000, but by a compromise agreement the sum was whittled down to slightly less than $54,000. The findings were made because the money collected from motor license tag sales was delayed for months in going into the state treasury when Brown was secretary of state.

President Sought Adjustment

President Hoover was unwilling to appoint Brown to an office until the interest payments had been adjusted. Brown contended he was not acting in bad faith when he permitted the delays, and the President, apparently, was willing to accept this theory. There was insistence, however, that restitution be made, and Brown obtained the consent and cooperation of the banks in restoring the money.

Reports a few days ago had it that agents of the United States senate were here digging into the Brown case for Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana, who had assailed Brown. The agents were said to have been employed secretly. Whether there is to be further review of the incidents was undetermined.

In announcement of the settlement attention was called to the fact that the state law requires weekly payments to the treasury of the funds collected by officials. Since the time for which the settlement was made the deposits have been more prompt.

Bettman Explains Act.

In announcing the settlement Bettman said:

"When I took office in January, 1929, there was in my office these findings made by the state auditor in 1927 and a question had been raised as to the justice of the state enforcing collection against Mr. Brown, in view of the fact that in the conduct of his office he had turned money into the State Treasury coming to him in the automobile license division faster than his predecessors."

"My conclusion was that though there was absolutely nothing in the nature of moral turpitude in the matter as far as Mr. Brown was concerned, there was a loss to the state by reason of the delay in turning the funds received into the state treasury weekly, as required by law. The real beneficiaries were the respective banks where the money had been allowed to remain."

"It was my insistence that the state must be made whole for the loss of interest involved. Mr. Brown felt assured that the banks which had received the benefits, though entirely innocently, would pay the amount of the findings of the Auditor of State, which findings were not only against Mr. Brown and his sureties on his bond, but also against the respective banks."

Banks Pay $34,434

"This plan has been pursued, and the $34,434.17 recovered and today turned into the state treasury by me has been paid by the respective banks which, according to the findings received the benefits. A committee of bankers is engaged in collecting the balance due from the remaining banks, and it is my expectation that within another month the remaining balance of $21,000 will all be paid to me and turned into the state treasury."

If not, a suit will in due course have to be instituted.

"The original findings made in 1927 against Mr. Brown and his sureties was $69,428.61. This amount was based on the highest rate of interest obtained by the State Treasurer during the period in question, January, 1924, to July, 1928. As the highest rate of interest was more than the state could recover in a litigation, the original findings were reduced, pursuant to an official opinion by me, to $55,542.88 which is based on the average rates of interest received by the state during the period in question. This reduction represents no compromise, and when received makes the state entirely whole for the loss of interest sustained in the matter."

Harmony Features Spring Styles

At the extreme left is pictured the latest creation in evening gowns, of peacock blue satin, trimmed with crystal. The skirt, with the bottom part long, circular and flowing, has a tightly fitting hip line. (Center) A smart dress of heavy black crepe. The gown is made with a high waistline and medium long skirt with the uneven hem-line. Black felt hat, suede bag and black patent leather pumps with straps are used to give this gown the finishing touches. (Right) This comely dress is extensively patronized by film stars in Hollywood.

(International Newsweek)

THE streak of yellow running through the new Spring fashions is a delightful platform whereon blonde and brunette may meet with a satisfying knowledge of looking their best. For all shades of yellow are in vogue this year, the pale tints of greenish cast that are so becoming to the blonde, as well as the deeper tones that suit the vivid darker coloring. That color together with blue that runs the gamut from the palest pastel shades to dark navy are the two leaders for color supremacy this season. Tweeds of light blue, weaves, taffeta, fine wools, heavy silk crepe, faille and heavy crepe de chine are the fabrics that will interest the material minded. During the Summer, chiffon and cotton fabrics will be a tremendous factor in the dress world, also linen for beach and sports wear. The ensemble is again of great importance as evidenced by the reports of the recent Paris openings. For sports wear, for formal daytime clothes and evening wear, the ensemble predominates. Nearly every frock is accompanied by a jacket, that may be anything from a bolero to a seven-eighths affair. Capes too, appear on the horizon of the mode. These may be just capelets, or just little capes over the shoulder of the sleeve or they may be long dashing wraps of the type so becoming to the tall, slim woman. Many evening frocks show little capes attached to the back decolletage, also pet little boleros, and eon jackets. The great waistline controversy is not so acute this season, waists are at their normal moorings, except when the frock is of pronounced Empire tendency, or is inspired, as are the frocks of the new Molyneux collection, by the lovely, clinging lines of the antique Greek costume. The frocks of Grecian derivation are mostly of heavy white georgette with bandings showing the Greek key pattern. For wear during the early days of Spring, there will be coats of fine tweed, also coat-dresses in cheviot and other woolsens. Skirts for daytime clothes will be rather longer, about twelve to fourteen inches from the ground, while for evening, the long, all-around skirt will prevail.

POISON BOOZE PROVES FATAL

High School Pupils Drink Liquor; Illness and Death Follow

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—The death of one 16-year-old high school student, the blinding of a 17-year-old girl and the serious illness of two other boys in the Metropolitan area were laid to poison liquor today.

Police began a search for "a 19-year-old bootlegger" as the result of the story of the five youngsters who survived a joy ride and drinking party in an automobile truck here Sunday night. The sixth member of the party, Donald Ashworth, 16, died in the truck, before a hospital could be reached.

Charles Post, and Paul Phelps, each 17, who were in the party, were taken to a hospital in a serious condition. The others who went on the joy ride, Lyle Said, 17, Annabelle Miller, 15, and Evelyn Cameron, 15, said they did not partake of the liquor. They were held to aid in the search for the "boy bootlegger."

The students said they purchased a gallon of liquor at a wayside station. The girls in the party asserted they tried to dissuade the boys from drinking. They were uncertain whether they could locate the house at which the liquor was bought but were sure they could identify the seller.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

A physician, who happens to be a bachelor, put the query the other day:

"Can you solve a mystery for me? What do women eat when alone?"

Again and again he has specified certain diets for women who are at home, and therefore usually have at least one meal a day by themselves. They assure him that they follow his diet religiously. And his theory is that the woman in the home is perfectly able to do so—much more than the business woman who depends on restaurants. There's nothing to stop the home woman from eating only and exactly what the doctor prescribes—even if it means measuring or weighing the quantities. The home offers every facility for doing so conveniently.

And yet the queer thing is that the inevitable results of following his regulations don't follow. Can it be that the dear ladies are deceiving their doctor?

The chances are more that they are deceiving themselves. It is a very simple matter to follow the rules for breakfast, luncheon and dinner. You prepare so much of just this—and no more. But the unforeseen factor is the in-between-meals nibble. Many women who tell you exactly what they had for three meals, and are absolutely truthful about it, forget entirely all the things they had in between. Lunch may be locust and toast, as per orders. But the temptations of the cake tin, the candy box or the bowl of fruit are ever-present in the home. Unthinkingly the home woman may eat during the course of the day more than her allowance of calories for three meals, and do it all in nibbles that seem like nothing at the time.

Really, the business woman who has definite hours for meals three times a day, and no more—and no opportunity for eating in between times is in much better position to observe a diet painlessly than the woman in the comforts of home!

There is, too, a tendency toward commendable economy which, however, does not always work to the woman's advantage. The left-overs of last night's dinner are prudently renovated for her next day's luncheon. Which would be perfectly all right if the left-overs were balanced. Too often they are not. And the noonday meal may consist of an excess of creamed fish—but no vegetables, since there were none left, and the single dish is filling enough.

It might be well for the home woman to take a hint from the business woman's lunch. According to tea-room reports, this is more and more tending toward a salad, a sandwich and milk. Business men invariably eat lightly. Business men may go in for substantial lunches—meats and gravies and pies—but even the business women who can afford to eat big lunches rarely do so. It's impossible to feel alert enough to do a half day's work if one eats a heavy meal at the noon hour. Besides, the business woman keeps a sharp eye on her figure—especially if she's doing sedentary work and has not much time for exercise.

Plenty of fruit at the midday meal is quite possible for the woman in the home—and this plus a sandwich or a cup of cocoa should sustain her sufficiently—and protect her from the great nibbling temptation.

COLD MEANS NOTHING TO OLD "SEA DOG"

Men of the sea can't coddle their colds. They catch them, but get rid of them in a jiffy.

So can you—and without "doping"—with a simple compound that just knocks out all that achy, feverish feeling or that watery-eyed, sore-nosed condition that always makes a person feel so thoroughly miserable.

Next time exposure to wet and cold has set you to shivering, take Cape's Cold Compound. Simple little tablets, but how they kill a cold! Cape's Cold Compound is only 35c.

URBANA, O., Feb. 25.—Congressman Charles Brand of Urbana today faces a charge of driving his automobile with 1929 license plates. He claims the 1930 plates were under the seat of his automobile. If prosecution is necessary, Solicitor Edwin L. English, Brand's son-in-law, will represent the city.

Over 60 Countries Now Treat Colds Without "Dosing"

Modern Vaporizing Ointment Fast Replacing Old-Time Internal Remedies

A generation ago, it was the custom to give large doses of internal medicines for colds and almost every human ailment. Then, a North Carolina pharmacist originated Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds without "dosing." Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

As more and more people adopted this modern external treatment, the fame of Vicks spread until today it is the standby for colds—adults as well as children's—in over 60 countries.

This ever-increasing demand is shown in the figures of the familiar Vicks slogan. Made famous when Vicks reached "17 Million Jars Used Yearly," and later raised to "21 Million," these figures, too, have been outgrown. As there are now "Over 26 Million Jars Used Yearly," in the United States alone.

Daring Airman Chutes 500 Feet

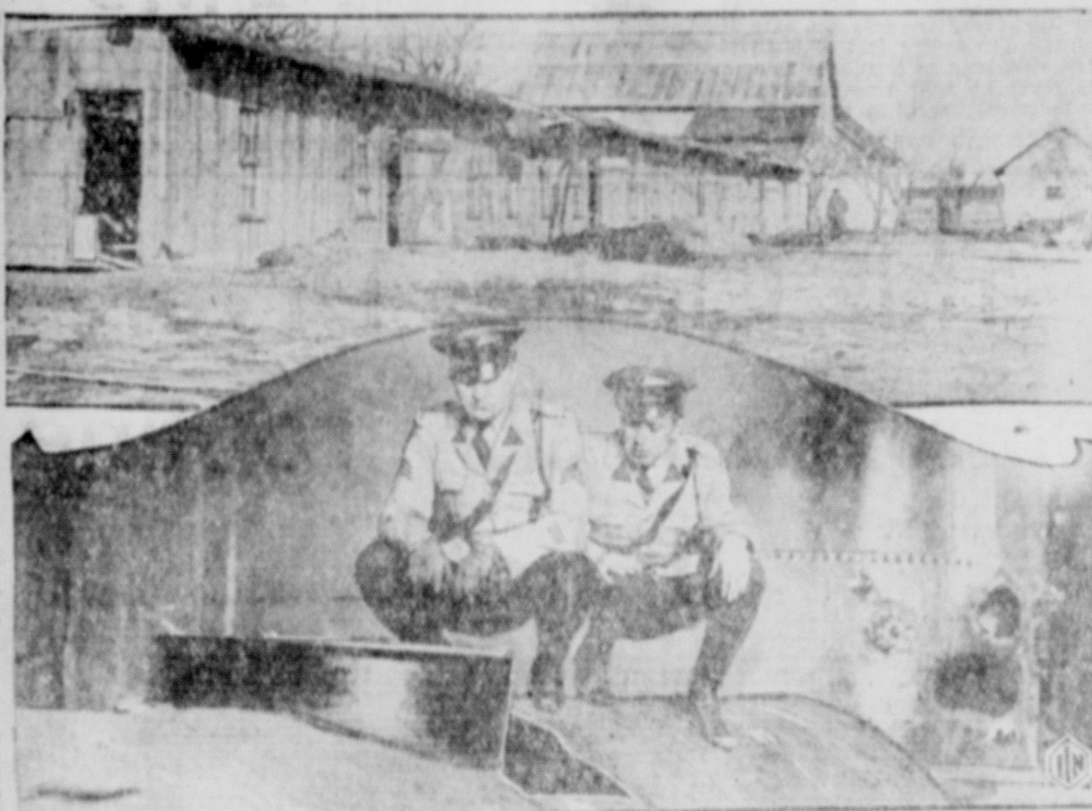

To climb more than two-thirds of the height of the Woolworth Building, one of Gotham's skyscrapers, and jump to the ground is a feat beyond imagination. What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids; 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875. Adv

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK—Mrs. Emile V. Moore has refused a gift of $114,531 in order that it may be available for a school. She was bequeathed most of the residuary estate of her sister Mrs. Anne Clark, for life. Mrs. Moore renounced the bequest so that the college could have the money at once.

Sues For Injuries
A suit for $8,000 damages has been filed in common pleas by Attorney W. A. O'Grady on behalf of Leona Smith against J. J. Allen of 733 Bradshaw ave., East Liverpool, for injuries she sustained when struck by a motor truck driver by Allen when she was crossing Sixth st. East Liverpool at the Washington street intersection at 3:30 o'clock the afternoon of Feb. 5 last.

The plaintiff has related she had a "green light" and that when she was knocked down by the truck that was traveling in an opposite direction she sustained a spinal injury, a fractured leg and other injuries.

Sues Because of Will
During the 18 years that William Haag of 113 Union st., Columbiana, was employed by Georgiana Metzgar, deceased, he was told that he would be provided for in the last will and testament of the decedent. This was not done, and as a result, suit has been entered in common pleas court against E. P. Funkhouser, as administrator of the estate of Mrs. Metzgar. The services were performed about the Metzgar home from December 1910 up to and including December 23, 1928. The administrator has denied payment of the claim. The petition for the plaintiff has been filed by Metzgar, McCarthy & McCorkhill of Salem.

May File Reply
Leave to the plaintiff to file a reply to the petition has been granted by the court in the appeal case of Theodore Sulist against J. R. Lippitt. The reply is to be filed by March 1.

At The Grand

LILY DAMITA, VICTOR McLAGLEN AND EDMUND LOWE ARE STARRING IN "THE COCKEYED WORLD" AT THE GRAND.

"COCKEYED WORLD"

The World was made El Brendel a Swede and now he is a Marine, more than 10 years after the Armistice. Incidentally "El" really should be written Elmer, for that is his real name.

Currently he is portraying a Swede Marine in "The Cock Eyed World."

At the outbreak of the World war Brendel was in vaudeville doing a German dialect act. Then he played in the big fight until it was over, and then back to vaudeville, but he knew the German dialect was out, so he tried a "dead pan" Swede.

He was such a riot that he landed in musical comedy as a star. Since his breakaway dress suit has convinced millions and the idea has often been copied.

Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe and Lily Damita are co-featured.

"SONG OF LOVE"

At The State
"The Song of Love" all-talking, singing and dancing feature starring Belle Baker, opened at the State theater last night.

In addition to the star performance of Belle Baker, historically and vocally and the excellent musical score, there is a human interest story with plenty of heart interest.

Weather Outlook

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 25.—Weather outlook for the 36-hour period beginning at 8 o'clock last night.

The air-pressure continues relatively high over the southeast with a low-pressure area extending from Oklahoma to New England. In this latter area the weather continues warm and unsettled. Temperatures over Ohio are now from 30 to 38 degrees above normal. There was a general change to cooler from the plains states and from the indications are the increasing pressure from the west and north will fill up the depression now over the Ohio valley resulting in snows in this vicinity tonight followed on Wednesday by an appreciable change to colder with or preceded by rain. Temperature will drop to near freezing Wednesday night.

QUIZ STARTED IN DEATH CASE

High School Boy May Be Victim of Murderer; Thought Suicide

(By International News Service)
HUCYRUS, O., Feb. 25.—Intensive investigations into the violent death of John Harper, 14-year-old Mt. Zion school freshman whose body was found lying by the side of a little-frequented road, five miles south of here, late last night, were launched today.

The boy, when found by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Miller and Miss Lillian Stinner, had been shot through the heart with a .38 caliber bullet and the gun was found by his side. Powder burns scored his body in the vicinity of the wound, and officials, after a cursory probe, indicated the lad had taken his own life.

When the undertaker, who was preparing the body for burial, found a small but deep stiletto wound less than two inches above the bullet wound, the investigation was re-opened.

Harper is said to have borrowed the gun yesterday afternoon from a friend, with which, he said, he was going to shoot crows. The boy visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Carenen late last evening, according to Carenen, the boy had complained of receiving low grades in school.

Milton Harmon, superintendent of the Mt. Zion school, today declared the boy had not received low grades but indicated that the lad had not shown his report cards to his parents.

LIFE OF DIVER SAVED BY CREW

Fellow Workers Effect Rescue of Prisoner In Icy Waters

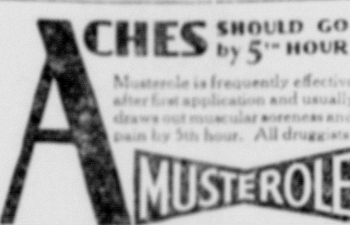

(By The Associated Press)
FITZROY HARBOR, ONT., Feb. 25.—Hector Roy, a diver, was recovering today from the effects of five hours' imprisonment beneath the ice waters of the Ottawa river.

He was drawn into a deep hole in the river bottom yesterday and held there by a strong current when he went down to work on a cofferdam being constructed in connection with a hydro-power development at Chate's Falls.

When the efforts of six men pulling on a strong line about his body failed to dislodge him, three fellow divers went down and built a triangular cribbing about him. The cribbing deflected the current sufficiently to relieve the pressure so the imprisoned diver could be drawn up. He suffered chiefly from the extreme coldness of the water.

A month ago, Peter Trans, a Danish diver, lost his life when he was caught beneath the waters on Riviere Aux Outardes on the north shore of the St. Lawrence river, while engaged in similar work. His body was recovered after he had been under water more than 72 hours.

Value Of Telephone Service To Public Shows Continued Increase During Past Year

Continued increase in the value of telephone service to the public is described in the annual report of directors of The Ohio Bell Telephone company presented to the stockholders at their annual meeting today in Cleveland.

The net gain in telephones for 1929 was 62,260, the largest of any year in the history of the company. Value of the service increases from year to year as a result of the greater number of telephones to which connection can be made, it is explained by E. F. Carter, president of the company, in the report. There has also been continued improvement in local and long distance service.

"The already rapid long distance service between cities has been still further speeded up and a greater number of calls than ever before is handled while the calling party remains at the telephone," the report says. "Clearness of voice transmission continues its advancement."

The time required to install a telephone after the order is received has been greatly decreased, and many telephones are now installed by appointment on the date specified. Improvement in the speed, accuracy and courtesy of the service to telephone customers in the business offices of the company has continued, and in many places the customer receives personal attention at a desk, has been established.

250,514 Installed

During the year 250,514 telephones were connected with the system and 188,314 were disconnected. Total telephones in service at the end of the year were 709,713. To care for the growth in business and to continue betterments of plant and equipment, $28,139,477 was spent on new construction, which was greater than the expenditure for any other year and exceeded the 1928 program by $7,793,910.

During the year, $15,000,000 of common stock to $100,000,000 preferred capital stock remains at $28,219,700. The balance sheet of the company shows the investment to

Neuritis Suffering Quickly Routed By Owa-Ton-Na

Kidney and Liver Disorders Also Respond To This Natural Treatment

suffered with headaches and dizzy spells. Her stomach didn't function normally, neither did her kidneys. Backaches were so severe that she often found it difficult to get around. It didn't take Mrs. Jones long to realize the value of Owa-Ton-Na in disorders of this kind.

She says: "It is almost impossible to believe how quickly Owa-Ton-Na put me in good shape again. My bowels began to function normally, even though I had been suffering for years with constipations. My appetite improved and food tasted fine and digested properly. Dizzy spells and headaches disappeared. My energy returned and I gained in strength right along. Now those terrible pains in my arms and fingers are gone; my kidneys act normally and best of all those terrible backaches are a thing of the past. Is it any wonder that I am enthusiastic about Owa-Ton-Na when it has done me so much good? I gladly recommend it to other sufferers."

Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at Floding's, Bolger & French and J. H. Lease drug stores.—Adv.

NEAR RIOT MARKS SENSATIONAL BASKETBALL DUEL AT SALEM GYM

Columbiana Boosters Defeat Youngstown In Thrilling Cage Event

Columbiana Boosters defeated the strong Kennedy-James aggregation from Youngstown by a 35-24 score in one of the most spectacular basketball games played here in years, Monday night. The game, played at the Memorial building gymnasium, was marked by a near riot involving members of both teams, coaches and spectators and resulted in the game's being called off with two minutes of playing time remaining.

With members of each team engaged in furious combat throughout the entire struggle, the battle grew hotter towards closing minutes of play and came to a climactic close when two players became involved in a slight altercation after Referee Ray Reasbeck of Salem, called Al Sebastian, Youngstown guard, for hacking Kennedy Dowed, Columbiana.

Dowed and Sebastian held their argument in one end of the court for less than 20 seconds when Steve Minehart, giant Youngstown center, entered into the affair by pulling Dowed to one side and attempted to indulge in fistfights then and there, with the Columbiana star.

"New Konjola Is A Remarkable Health Builder"

"I have Regained All My Old Strength. Thanks to This New Medicine," Says Grateful Man

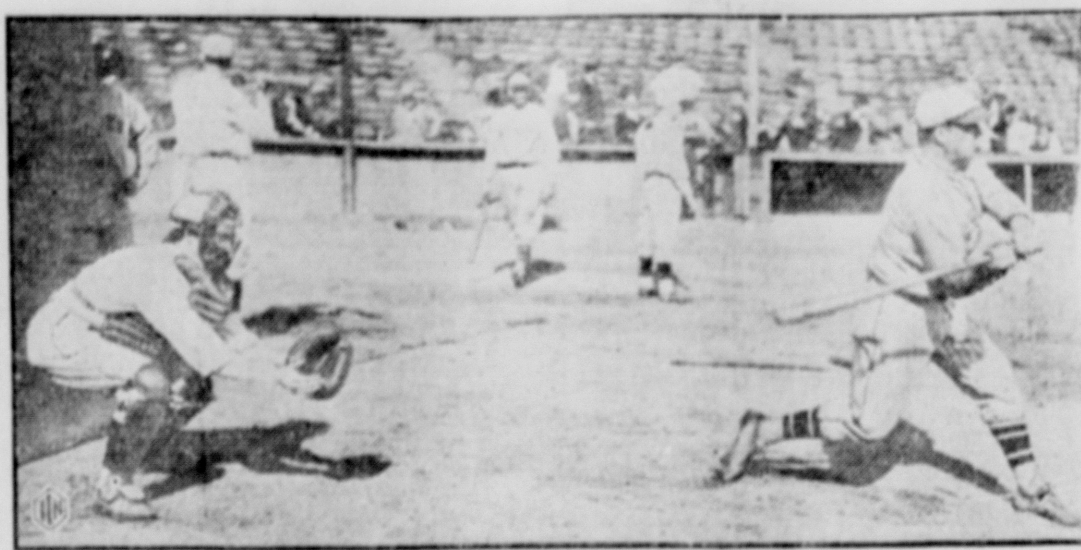

MR. M. L. KNAPP

"A severe attack of pneumonia had me in bed for eight weeks and no matter what medicine or tonic I tried, I was unable to regain my strength after I had recovered from this illness," said Mr. M. L. Knapp, 217 Falls Avenue, Youngstown, O. "I lost considerable weight. My appetite was poor, and what I did eat did not digest as it should. I became very much discouraged as nothing I tried helped me."

"After learning that Konjola was highly recommended as a tonic and body builder, as well as a medicine, I decided to try it. Well, Konjola proved to be just the medicine I needed. At the end of four weeks I felt immeasurably better. I continued for a while with Konjola, and now all my old strength has returned. After what this master medicine did for me I cannot say too much in praise for it."

Konjola is sold in Salem at all J. H. Lease drug stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

While the great Bambino, King of Swat, is indulging with continued debate with Col. Jake Ruppert of the Yanks on an increase in salary, many other big leaguers, not as old as the Babe and a few of them somewhat more antiquated, are facing severe cuts in salaries in the coming baseball season. The Babe, naturally, is not basing his claims to a gigantic salary on his athletic prowess alone, he realizes the immensity of his ballyhoo value and the attraction he is to Yankee stadium gate receipts.

Eddie Roush is one of the mighty who has fallen and who will take a cut in pay or drop out of the game this season. For three reasons the New York Giant star received a check of $21,000 for his outstanding talents but his contract this year, John McGraw has notified him, will only be $13,500.

Wayland Dean, a coming star a few years ago with the Giants, is probably through with baseball, but not because of salary disagreements. Dean, a former "$50,000 beauty" of McGraw's suffered a nervous breakdown last month. He is only 33 years of age.

Ray Kremer, 34, of the Pirates, is still in his prime. He's having a fight with Barney Dreyfuss about not getting enough money. Eddie Roush is only 37 and Ruth is 36. Dazzy Vance, another contender for a decrease, is 37.

There are 160 rookies now on their way to major camps. How many of them will be able to replace these "mighty men of baseball" when they go out? The end comes at no specified age; some can keep on going longer than others, but they aren't good for ever.

One of the most interesting girls' basketball games played in Columbiana county this season was that played between Lisbon and East Palestine teams at Palestine Saturday. Lisbon won by a 12-11 score and with the victory claims county championship honors. In winning the game, county seat lassies tossed in only two field goals and scored eight fouls. Palestine maidens failed to tally from action, amassing its entire total of 11 from the free throw line.

Carnera Wins Scrap From Farmer Lodge

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25.—Farmer Lodge of Minnesota is the seventh victim of Primo Carnera's campaign through American prize rings.

The mammoth Italian knocked out Lodge in the second round of their scheduled 10 round bout here last night. Lodge was the fourth of Carnera's opponents in this country to last two rounds.

Carnera appeared nervous as Lodge clinched repeatedly at the start of the fight, but after the Farmer landed one blow, a glancing left to the head, the Italian opened up and floored him for a short count just before the bell. In the second Carnera sent Lodge to the mat for a count of seven with a smashing right to the body and then ended the encounter with a short right uppercut.

Bobby Jones Plans Intensive Campaign

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Feb. 25.—Down to his best playing weight, tanned, hardened and shooting better golf than usual this early in the season, Bobby Jones, national open champion, is ready for his most extensive campaign of recent years.

A program of indoor and outdoor sports, intermingled with a little golf, has kept the Atlanta ace in near perfect trim throughout the winter.

Jones who has won every major golf title except the British amateur has fixed his tentative schedule to include the Walker cup matches, and the American open and amateur. He desires most of all the English amateur crown.

United Cigars play New Waterford Aces at New Waterford tonight. The Cigars have entered amateur basketball tournaments in Canton, Alliance, Sebring and East Liverpool.

Sharkey-Scott Embroglio Will Not Come To Radio Listeners

(By The Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 25.—Although the strongest kind of pressure has been brought to bear, the Madison Square Garden corporation today apparently has resisted all efforts to bring about a reversal of its decision not to broadcast the Sharkey-Scott and Campolo-Risiko fights, Thursday night.

The impression that Garden magnates would change their minds and permit the fistfights to be wafted out of the arena to the rest of the world gained circulation after information was received that the National Broadcasting company was sending two men from New York.

England, represented by Phil Scott and Argentina by Victorio Campolo, in the two main bouts of the evening, especially have been anxious to arrange for the blow-by-blow returns by radio.

However, William F. Carey, president and spokesman for the Garden, said before taking a train for New York, that there would be no broadcast, under any circumstances.
